Results of Operations

For the six months ended June 30, 2013, the net asset value of the Fund for pricing purposes was $10.93 per unit compared to $11.25 per unit at December 31, 2012.

For more detailed information on the investment returns, please see the Annual Total Return bar graph.

For the six months ended June 30, 2013, the fund had a return of -1.58% net of fees of 1.15% (annualized) while the DEX Universe Bond Index had a return of -1.68%. The bond market has adjusted to the fact that quantitative easing will be winding down in the 4th quarter of 2013. The strategy of the Fund has been to overweight corporate bonds relative to its benchmark as yields represent value relative to Government bonds. Term to maturity was shortened in anticipation of the rise in interest rates although they are expected to remain in this range for the remainder of the year.

Recent Developments

The Bank of Canada has not increased interest rates this year and has recently stated that it is likely to remain on hold given the uncertain global economic environment. Steve Poloz, recently appointed head of the Bank of Canada, was previously the CEO of Export Development Canada. He will likely maintain a steady course although given his background, he is well aware of the export challenges Canadian manufacturers are facing. In light of that, he is more likely to have conciliatory views of the current interest rate environment. The U.S. economy on the other hand has been gradually picking up momentum with job growth maintaining a consistent path. The Canadian dollar has weakened in light of the divergent paths of economic growth, which longer term will be a net positive for our economy.

Interest rates will likely be limited on the upside given our weak economic growth in the first half of 2013. The corporate bond market remains attractive given the additional interest rate differential over Government bonds. The strategy will be to remain overweight this sector to achieve higher income and potential capital gains.

⁽²⁾ Management expense ratio is the ratio of all fees and expenses, including harmonized sales taxes but excluding transaction fees charged to the Fund to the average net assets.

⁽⁴⁾ Net Asset Value per unit is the difference between the aggregate value of the assets of the Fund and the aggregate value of the liabilities and including the valuation of securities at closing prices divided by the number of units then outstanding.
